

Home Consultation Packages & Pricing

One room consultation

If you have one room, e.g. office, therapy room, bedroom, where you would like to optimise the energy for yourself and/or your clients, I offer a package which includes:

- Applying the Bagua to advise on placement of items in specific areas of the room relating to different aspects of life
- Analysing the 'Five Elements' to bring the space into balance using colours, shapes, artwork and other objects
- A basic analysis of your personal element to ensure you are harmonious with your environment.
- Energy cleanse of the room (see 'Other Services' overleaf for details)
- Summary recommendations report, sent within a few days after the consultation

Price: £95 / approx. 60-75 minutes consultation time plus preparation and summary report

Complete home consultation

A complete consultation process which includes:

- Pre-visit to the property to take an accurate compass reading, get a feel for the layout and discuss with the client their desired outcomes
- Pre-consultation preparation based on information from the client (floorplan, age of house, dates of birth of occupants, particular requirements)
- Personal 'Four Pillars' analysis for the main occupants (adults) of the house. This provides you with your self-element (whether you are a Fire, Earth, Metal, Water or Wood person, based on your date of birth) which can give fascinating insights into which colours, activities and careers are suited to you, and how you can incorporate other 'elements' into your life to help with energy levels, relaxation, sleeping and much more.
- Complete house analysis using Form School, Bagua and Flying Star methods to enable you to achieve optimal energy flow, apply balances and cures where appropriate and consider the placement of key items in all areas of the home relating to different aspects of life.
- 'Ming Gua' directions analysis for all occupants, which provides you with your favourable and unfavourable directions to face where you spend most of your time to optimise your health and prosperity, e.g. in bed, in your favourite chair, at your desk.
- Earth dowsing (if necessary) to check for energetic influences under and around the building
- An energy cleanse of the entire home (see 'Other Services' overleaf for details)
- Summary recommendations report, sent within a few days after the consultation
- Follow up call one month after the consultation and unlimited support for three months

Price: £249 / approx. 3-4 hours consultation time plus preparation and summary report

Other Services

Energy cleansing

All properties absorb and hold on to energy from the people who have lived there and occurrences that have happened since it was built. Sometimes this can compromise the vitality of the home and therefore the current occupants, for example if there has been illness, arguments, burglary or trauma the home continues to hold on to this. It is vital to clean not only the surfaces, furniture and floor but also the air and energy around the home on a regular basis, and also essential if you are moving into a new home.

An energetic cleanse releases any old, stuck or negative energies and brings the space back to its optimum state. I use Tingsha Bells and Sage Smudging for this process. Ideally the home is physically clean prior to the energy cleanse (no need to be spotless!), as it is most effective when performed as the final stage of cleaning. It is also essential to open some windows during the procedure to enable the old energy to escape and bring fresh air in.

As part of the process I teach you how to do a simple energy cleanse yourself for the future.

Price: £39 / approx. 45-60 minutes

Annual feng shui rebalance

The Chinese New Year (end of January/beginning of February) brings new energies each year and it is important to rebalance and apply cures to a house to ensure that optimal energy flow is continued. Clients who have had a full consultation will be reminded of this (optional) service at the relevant time each year.

Price: £95 / approx. 60-75 minutes consultation time plus preparation and summary report

Moving home, renovating, extending or struggling to sell?

My services include various methods and techniques to ensure that these often stressful situations can be eased with the knowledge that Feng Shui is optimised in your changing or new environment. Often a home that is difficult to sell has a 'wealth lock' which can be addressed, or an unusual shaped house may be missing important parts of the Bagua map which can affect certain aspects of life. You may want advice on where to place furniture or which colours to decorate. Whatever your situation is, I would love to help!
